PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

MEMBERSHIP MEETING: Great news! Our in-person general membership meeting will resume on Saturday, July 13, 2024. Thanks to First Vice President Genieve White for securing the space. We have added several new members since our last general membership meeting in December and this will be an opportunity to meet them and to greet other members who you may not have seen in a while. We will have a special Healthcare Literacy Series presentation by two of our new members. It will offer valuable information to our community. We recommend it. Please come out to the meeting and invite others to attend as well. The meeting will be held at Level-X Fitness Center, 10287 Okeechobee Blvd., Suite A-5, Royal Palm Beach, FL 33411 (Target Plaza -- corner of Okeechobee Boulevard and US 441).

ANNUAL FRIENDSHIP BALL: Our 33rd Annual Friendship Ball will be held on Saturday, September 28, 2024. This is our signature event where we raise most of the funds used to finance our programs throughout the year. Please consider giving a donation or providing sponsorship to one or more of our Ball activities. For details, see Ball information elsewhere in this newsletter.

STUDENT ASSISTANCE FUND AWARDS CEREMONY: On June 8th we held our annual Student Assistance Fund Awards Ceremony at the Original Wellington Mall in Wellington, joined by a number of local officials and educators. This event was made possible by contributions from members and supporters, and grants and donations from many champions for education. Thanks to all our members and supporters who contributed. A special thank you to Junette Powell and Nadine White-Boyd, co-chairs of the Student Assistance Fund Program, and to the rest of the committee.

With warm regards,

Dennis Wright

Things that make you go HMMMM.

*First time I heard about paraproverbs, I liked them.
Paraproverbs are figures of speech in which the latter part of a sentence or phrase is surprising or unexpected and is frequently humorous. *(Winston Churchill loved them).* Here are a few.*

1. Where there's a will, I want to be in it.
2. The last thing I want to do is hurt you ...but it's still on my list.
3. Since light travels faster than sound, some people appear bright until you hear them speak.
4. If I agreed with you, we'd both be wrong.
5. We never really grow up -- we only learn how to act in public.
6. War does not determine who is right, only who is left.
7. Knowledge, is knowing a tomato is a fruit. Wisdom is not putting it in a fruit salad.
8. To steal ideas from one person is plagiarism. To steal from many is research.
9. I didn't say it was your fault, I said I was blaming you.
10. In filling out an application, where it says, "In case of an emergency, notify..." I answered, "a doctor."

Member Spotlight

HAVE YOU MET ... CHARLESWORTH 'BARCLAY' VARLACK?

British Virgin Islands

US Virgin Islands

Charlesworth Varlack is enterprising, self-driven and visionary. Called Barclay by his family, all his life he has created his own opportunities.

Born in Tortola, a mountainous isle in the British Virgin Islands known for its white sand beaches, Barclay's family moved to the U.S. Virgin Islands in 1965. Seven months after arriving in the USVI, he was drafted into the U.S. army at the age of 19. The year was 1966, near the height of the Vietnam war. With South Korea being a U.S. ally and North Korea backing Vietnam, Barclay was stationed for 13 months along the demilitarization zone (DMZ) separating the two Koreas. Though his unit did not experience the ongoing fighting occurring in Vietnam, there were occasional skirmishes, with one occurring in November 1966 when President Johnson visited the region. The DMZ was fraught with danger, punctuated by the awareness that conflict could explode at any minute.

It was a time that Barclay describes as 'horrible,' during which he and his fellow recruits lived in foxholes that were cold, damp, and wet while guarding the border. He recalls Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. calling out America for the disproportionate number of Blacks being drafted, only to return to their families in body bags.

When Dr. King was assassinated, many of the White soldiers celebrated. The cheering that lit up base camp rings in Barclay's memory. "It was a hard thing to take. These were people you were sharing the same foxhole with; you were eating with them, sleeping in the same space with them, and they were rejoicing."

Those tough times did not break Barclay. Instead, driven by the teachings he'd gotten as a boy in the islands watching his grandfather, a master boat builder, build some of the best boats on the island, and hearing the parental drum beat about the importance of education, Barclay made it his mission to get an education and do all he could to create a future of possibility for himself and his family.

He would spend two years in the army, eleven months of which he was stationed in the U.S. Upon his discharge, Barclay settled in the Bronx, New York and began attending college.

Twenty-one years old and living on his own, Barclay got a job as a bank clerk. It was while working there that his knack for spotting an opportunity first struck. Noticing the many legal documents coming into the bank and being assigned to a special unit, Barclay asked his supervisor who handled them. The answer: paralegals and the legal department. Barclay immediately responded that if an opening arose in that department, he wanted to work there. In preparation, he studied to become a paralegal. When a position opened up, he was ready.

During this time, Barclay earned an associate's degree, and later a bachelor's in public administration, all while working during the day and attending school at night. (He would later start work on a master's degree, but his many responsibilities prevented its completion.)

From the bank, Barclay went on to work as a paralegal for a Wall Street stock brokerage, a job he held for 12 years before deciding to open an insurance agency.

He opened the agency he says because "At that time minorities had a difficult time progressing on Wall Street, so I left and started my own insurance agency selling property and casualty, as well as life and health insurance."

Barclay operated the business successfully for 24 years before retiring in 2012. During the last 7 years, having moved to Florida in 2005, he commuted back and forth to New York bi-weekly.

Prior to starting his insurance agency, even as he worked as a paralegal, Barclay ran what today would be called a side hustle. One day, driving down Sutphin Boulevard in Queens, he noticed a van stopping at local corner grocery stores and delivering candy and snack items. Barclay followed the van's route, then went back to the stores. He asked the store owners, based in majority Black neighborhoods, if they had any Black suppliers. When they said no, Barclay seized the opportunity.

Partnering with his brother, Barclay purchased a van, connected with wholesalers and became the supplier for 50 bodegas. When they sold the business seven years later, they had opened the doors of opportunity. Several other Black and Hispanic suppliers now serviced the territory.

Today, Barclay and his wife Hilary are CAFCI members. Barclay says they chose CAFCI because "It's more than a social organization. It actively gives back to the community; that's important."

Barclay is the proud father of two, and grandpops to three. His wife Hilary, a Jamaican, says honesty and hard work define him: "All he ever did was work hard and service his clients. Even when they had million-dollar houses he never oversold them or took advantage. He always did what was best for the client."

Barclay and Hilary will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary in August.

CAFCI SCOUTS TROOPS 111 & 4111

Greetings CAFCI members,

Troop 111 & 4111 had an amazing time at Tanah Keeta Summer Camp this year. Not only did we receive the highest score on our campsite inspection out of any other troop, but we also earned the Honor Troop Award. Each day we showed our Scout spirit by dressing up to match the daily theme. Monday was Sports, Tuesday the Wild West, Wednesday Winter Holidays, Thursday was Superhero, and Friday was Hawaiian or Pirate. There were plenty of fun events, such as night climb with glow sticks, open swim, line dancing, decorating ornaments, and making cardboard gingerbread houses. The most fun of them all was the cardboard boat regatta. The troop designed a boat wrapped in at least 10 rolls of duct tape to help it be waterproof.

The name of the vessel was the "Troop 111 Pepto Bismol".

Overall, it was a wonderful experience at TK, and we will definitely be returning next year. We have plans to attend Sea Base High Adventure Camp in the Keys and also Daniel Boone Camp in North Carolina later this month. With that, it has been a fun summer so far, and hopefully it will only get better. Many thanks to CAFCI for their support which makes these amazing adventures possible.

CAFCI Honors Students at its 31st Student Assistance Fund Awards Ceremony

Expressing the value of education in words is no easy task, but Malcolm X captured it so well when he wrote “Education is our passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs only to the people who prepare for it today.” As part of its mission and guiding philosophy, CAFCI believes that investing in the education of our young people is the best investment we can make for the future. On Saturday, June 8, 2024 at the Original Wellington Mall, CAFCI celebrated the educational journey of eight outstanding Palm Beach County high school seniors at its 31st Annual Student Assistance Fund Award Ceremony. The recipients were:

1. Rachelle Jenna Alcin (Michelle and Robert Diffenderfer Award); College: Florida International University
2. Nirvani Balkaran (Gloria Edwards Award); College: Florida State University
3. Kellie Cargill (Ferrin Student Leadership Award); College: Florida International University
4. Karlye Drake (Jess and Victoria Santamaria Award); College: Fisk University
5. Tyson Elliott (Audrey Martin Award & CAFCI Junior Citizen Recipient) - College: Florida State University

Each student received a Student Assistance Fund Award for educational excellence, valued at $1,500, and one student, Tyson Elliott, also received the CAFCI Junior Citizen Award in recognition of exemplary community and civic service, and an additional $500.00. Reinforcing CAFCI's mission, the theme for this year's event was “Empowering Youth & Investing In Our Future.”

Tyson Elliott

Tyson Elliott got the evening off to a powerful start with his stirring guitar rendition of the National Anthem. The students received inspiring messages of congratulations and encouragement from Royal Palm Beach Mayor, Fred Pinto, and School Board District 6 member, Marcia Andrews, among others. Videotaped messages of congratulations, enthusiastic support, and valuable advice were provided to the awardees from past award recipients whose academic progress serve as a tribute to the investment and commitment that CAFCI has made to education and the youth in our community.

Summer A. Hill, a Critical Care Registered Nurse and motivational speaker, delivered a rousing and inspirational keynote address. She skillfully wove humor into her uplifting personal narrative exhorting the students to believe in themselves, show up and turn up, and know that their efforts and dedication are the keys to opening doors of opportunity and endless possibilities for success.

Summer Hill

The ceremony ended on a high note as Samara Lewis got a standing ovation for her incredible musical tribute of The Prayer to the awardees.

CAFCI is proud to have donated over $255,500 to 241 Palm Beach County high school seniors over the past 31 years, reflecting Benjamin Franklin's words, "An investment in knowledge pays the best interest."

Thanks to our dynamic and dedicated Student Assistance Fund Committee: Co-chairs Nadine White-Boyd and Junette Powell; Treasurer, Leonie Escoffery; members, Doreen Baker; Lavern Blackwood; Marva Wilks and Norma Smith-Hill. This group worked around the clock and pulled out all the stops. As a result, the awards ceremony was well attended, well executed, warm and familial; in short, an excellent showcase of CAFCI's guiding mission.

Sheena Bouchét Simmons, Jannette Sharpe-Paul

Committee members, we are ever grateful to you. Likewise, we extend a big thank-you to everyone who supported the students by donating to the 2024 SAF Awards. None of this would be possible without you.

A For C.A.F.C.I.

At the November Board meeting, Barclay Varlack presented a business proposal to the Board on behalf of the Finance Committee. The proposal was approved and the Finance Committee was directed to investigate the details required to set up the proposed business. This will require a few months to complete. The purpose of this step is to get legal advice and, if favorable, create a more detailed business plan for the Board to review for approval. If approved, the next step would be to implement the plan and start the business.

The business plan is required by the organization we have solicited to help us acquire funding for a building and related capital expenses. They will help us secure financing prior to finding a space.

If you have information about potential investors who may be able to help with funding, please share your ideas and information about available properties by calling 561-790-4002 and leaving a message, or by emailing cafci@bellsouth.net, and copying radcliffewoody@aol.com. We thank you, in advance, for your assistance.

CLOSED PRIMARIES

Your party affiliation will determine which partisan races are on your Primary Election ballot because Florida has closed primaries. However, the 2024 Primary Election also includes nonpartisan races for school board and judges, a countywide question, and a Universal Primary Contest* for Public Defender, 15th Judicial Circuit that all registered voters, including those registered with a different party or not affiliated with a party.

The deadline to change your political party affiliation for this election is July 22.

**A Universal Primary Contest occurs when all the candidates for an office belong to the same party and the winning candidate will have no opposition in the General Election.*

INTERNATIONAL SELF CARE DAY July 24, 2024

10 SELF-CARE TIPS FOR NURTURING MENTAL WELLNESS

We live in a fast-paced society with demands coming at us from every angle - work, relationships, social media, and more. It's no wonder, according to the National Alliance on Mental Illness, 1 in 5 U.S. adults experience mental illness. With this in mind, prioritizing mental wellness is more crucial than ever. Practicing self-care is one of the most important ways to improve and maintain a healthy mind and psyche. Here are ten self-care tips to help you nurture your mental wellness:

GET ENOUGH SLEEP: Adequate sleep, 7-9 hours each night, is fundamental for mental and physical health. Some tips for the best quality sleep are to eat a well-balanced bedtime snack, limit screen time before bed, and sleep in total darkness.

PRACTICE MINDFULNESS AND MEDITATION: Integrate mindfulness techniques into your everyday schedule. Whether through meditation, deep breathing exercises, prayer, or simply pausing to be fully present, these practices can alleviate stress, enhance self-awareness, and sharpen mental clarity.

REGULAR PHYSICAL ACTIVITY: Movement is not only beneficial for your physical health but also for your mental well-being. Find activities you enjoy, whether it's walking, yoga, dancing, or cycling, and aim for at least 30 minutes of exercise most days of the week.

NOURISH YOUR BODY: Consuming a nutrient-rich diet and balancing blood sugar supports hormone health which has a direct and positive effect on mental health. Make a habit of eating breakfast within 30 minutes to an hour of waking each morning, combine lean protein with healthy carbs and fats, and consume plenty of water throughout the day.

LEARN TO SAY NO: Whether it's to commitments or people that drain your energy and create stress, it's healthy to set boundaries. Establishing limits in your personal and professional life is essential for protecting your mental well-being and preserving your time and energy for activities that bring you joy.

MAKE TIME FOR SUPPORTIVE RELATIONSHIPS: CARVE out space for purposeful time with friends and loved ones. Surround yourself with people who uplift and support you. Share your thoughts and feelings openly with people who are trustworthy, and don't hesitate to seek help or professional support when needed.

ENGAGE IN ACTIVITIES YOU ENJOY: Make time for hobbies and activities that bring you joy and fulfillment. Making time for things you love to do can boost your mood and reduce stress.

PRACTICE GRATITUDE: Develop a mindset of gratitude by regularly identifying and focusing on the positive aspects of your life. Keep a gratitude journal and practice writing down things you're thankful for. Focusing on gratitude can enhance your overall outlook and increase feelings of happiness and contentment.

UNPLUG AND DISCONNECT: Ever heard of FOMO? In today's digital age, "fear of missing out" can be overwhelming and cause you to think you should be constantly connected. Set aside designated times to unplug from technology and disconnect from social media. Allow yourself to fully engage in the present moment without distractions. When you are connected, remember that much of what you see on social media is a "highlight reel" and not often a reflection of reality. If you feel worse after being on social media, consider disconnecting from it indefinitely.

SEEK PROFESSIONAL SUPPORT WHEN NEEDED: Reach out for professional help if you're struggling with your mental health. Therapists, counselors, and mental health professionals can provide support, guidance, and resources to help you navigate life's challenges and improve your overall well-being. ## PARENTS' DAY July 28, 2024

The fourth Sunday in July is Parents' Day in the USA. This holiday is a combination of Father's Day and Mother's Day. And what a celebration this should be! The holiday was established in 1994 by President Bill Clinton as the day that recognizes, uplifts and supports the role of parents in the rearing of children.

This observance is more consistent, because it minimizes traditional sex-based differences in parental roles. But as far as Mother's Day and Father's Day are very popular in the USA, its unlikely Parents' Day will replace them any time soon.

So if you are parents then give yourself a break today and treat yourself. Or if you have or know some hardworking, lovely parents – remind them how special they are today!
